NEWFOUNDLAND BILL BLOCKADE LASTS 17 HOURS

GARY COOPER
WEDS SANDRA
SHAW IN N.Y.

Handsome Screen Hero
Has Social Debutante
For Bride

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Gary Cooper, the handsome hero of many a screen romance, was married under the crystal chandeliers of a Park avenue apartment yesterday. The bride was Sandra Shaw, a grey-eyed New York debutante. They boarded a train for west shortly after the ceremony.

The bride, chic in gray corduroy coat and sailor blouse, which will give her a film career, which she began "as a lark" last year under the name of Sandra Dee, was radiant. She had words for no one except members of her family and their friends.

The ceremony was performed in the apartment of the bride's mother, the socially prominent Mrs. Anna Shipton.

The Rev. George A. Troubridge ministered at the wedding, in keeping with the custom of the church.

Those who knew that what was about to happen were asked to leave the room.

"It was a secret," he said.

The bride wore gray crepe satin and carried a bouquet of violets and orange orchids. Her nails were silvered to match her costume, and her white gloves were decorated with a crescent moon, two diamonds and ruby bracelet.

Cooper wore a brown checkered business suit, tan shirt and brown tie.

Only the bride's mother, step-father and step-sister, Miss Barbara Bates, witnessed the ceremony.

Mrs. Shipton has been engaged in marriage.

The couple, who first met on a motion picture set, were scheduled to stop off at Phoenix, Ariz., for several days.

They will then go to Coopersburg, Pa.

Cooper is 32, his bride 20. It is the first marriage for both.

BATES, WIFE, JOINTLY HELD PENDING TRIAL

Saskatoon Court Preliminary Hearing Holds Both on Murder Count

BIGGAR, Sask., Dec. 16.—Ordered to face trial, Judge J. L. Smith, sitting on the court of Queen's Bench at Wilkie, Sask. Edward and Rose Bates, husband and wife, were committed for trial here yesterday afternoon on a joint murder indictment.

A prima facie case against the couple for alleged murder of their nine-year-old son, Jack, was made out by the Crown attorney, Mr. Ernest Cox, to form a new government following the resignation last night of the cabinet of Premier Diego Martínez Barrios.

MADRID, Dec. 16.—Resignation of the cabinet of Premier Alfonso Martinez Barrios was formally announced today and it was learned that the new Prime Minister, General Alejandro Lerroux, would assume office on the 21st. In the meantime, the Spanish inns of justice will be closed.

It was generally expected that the crisis precipitated by the recent political changes would be terminated by tonight or tomorrow.

Edward Bates was taken to hospital after being held incommunicado since the previous Friday. He was released on Saturday morning.

He was held incommunicado because he was accused of being a criminal.

Mr. Bates, who had remained reasonably calm during the preliminary trial, but the woman wept occasionally, was silent throughout the parts of the testimony were retold. She cried when a witness related a statement that her son, Jack, in the tragedy had read a "Mickey Mouse book." The father's story is that the father and mother were plotting his death and their own in an alleged murder and suicide plan.

3-Day Week Declared

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—A three-day work week will be in effect until all over the United States was declared Friday by the necessary code authority. The action is the suggestion of Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator.

ROYAL FAMILY WILL ENJOY REAL FIRESIDE CHRISTMAS

"All British" Festivity at Sandringham is Ruler's Program

KING TO BROADCAST

SANDRINGHAM, Dec. 16.—King George and Queen Mary, surrounded by their children and grandchildren, will spend an "all British" Christmas.

There will be turkey from the Sandringham farm, a yule tree from the Royal Parks, a traditional Christmas pudding of all-empire ingredients and British-made gifts.

Queen Elizabeth will wear an apron and help mix the pudding in Buckingham Palace, and in a brief broadcast to the nation chose a Christmas tree.

That will be the royal Christmas party with a royal firends affair with the King and Queen joined by the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester, Prince George, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Kent.

The Prince Royal will spend a quiet Christmas with his wife, the Earl of Harwood and two sons at Harwood House. Yorkshire.

Public May Today View 5,000 Toys Remade By City Firemen

Toys which city firemen have been repairing to gladden the Christmas of children during the day of fun and feasting might otherwise have been seen on exhibition today starting at 3 until 10 p.m.

A blanket invitation to citizens to look over the toy shop was issued today by Fire Chief Albert Dutton.

Thousands of toys, ranging from original lustre by the industrious boys in blue welding carpenters' came in old and broken and have been transformed into new ones.

It's a cheerful sight to step into the annex in number two fire hall on 104 street and see, as shown here, toys which will make little hearts beat fast. Christmas morning for 3,000 children whose stockings were left bare have been made.

Grateful for the splendid response to his annual appeal for old toys, Fire Chief Dutton said: "We have received many contributions from the management companies we have received. I only hope that those who answered our appeal realize the joy resulting in some homes where the toys are delivered. I am sure they would feel an even deeper glow of the Yuletide spirit."

It's a happy sight to see some of his men at work in the toyshop, and some of the finished articles.

A REAL CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Lord Cecil suggests that the Government of Great Britain should make a public declaration of its disarmament policy, recommending that all countries agree to abolish within five years the types of armament which have been forbidden by Germany.

It is not clear if Great Britain will accept the proposal, but the other Dominions would in all probability fall in line and make that a joint declaration of the world.

Such a "straight from the shoulder" challenge to the nations to adopt a plan of systematic reduction, beginning now, would be about the best and most effective message the British Empire could send out to this hungry and over-taxed world at the Christmas time.

OTTAWA—"BEAT THEM TO IT"

China is apparently emerging from its "backward" state and adopting modern notions with a rush. The Government there proposes to ban the importation of wheat to save the tariff against foreign flour, 50 per cent. Western governments which have thought they were baring trade are only "pikers." The Chinese officials are proposing to show them who is boss.

Ottawa philosophically remarks that "Canada would not be so adversely affected as Australia and the United States." That is true, if not very convincing, showing that we are not getting the best or fairest Chinese terms of quotation. We cannot lose what we have not. On the principle that when trade is being killed it is good fortune to not have any trade, the Canadian government is calling on the export of Canada to send them home in time to exceed in beyond the sweep of the new Chinese tariff.

"and" money long ago did for those Canadian interests in the Chinese market what the proposed duties will do to Australia and the United States. If the Governments of those countries had treated their farmers and millers as the Government of Canada has treated the farmers and millers of Ontario, the Chinese Government would not have to drop a tariff on wheat and flour to keep their products out of its markets.

THIS IS THE LIMIT

As a special favor the 18,000 young Canadians who are building roads and making flying fields for the Dominion will be paid twenty cents a day to be paid on Dec. 20th, and given permission to go home for Christmas if they want to—at their own expense.

They will not be paid for working days in December up to and including Dec. 20th. If they have not lost any days on account of bad weather or sickness, each of the camp workers will be entitled to draw the regular amount of $4.40 with which to buy a fare home, but to carry bus presents, and contribute to the festivities of the Christmas season. Not many of the road-makers, it may be surmised, will go home.

And what about those who stay in camp? Will our big-hearted Government give them the privilege of working on Christmas day and New Year's day, or will they be required to take those two days off—and lose their twenty cents a day wage?

Poems That Live

RESIGNATION

Why, oh why, must my best friend,
At pleasure, slight me?

Some the stern Fates will never lend,
And all refuse to stay.

See the rainbow in the sky,
The dew upon the grass;

I see them, and I ask not why
They glimmer or they pass.

With folded arms I linger not—
To call them back; 'tis vain;

This, or that, in some other spot,
I know they'll shine again.

—WALTER SAVAGE LANDOR.

Headlight blindness is one of the most dangerous hazards of night motoring, a hazard not only to the occupants of automobiles and to motorists, but also to the pedestrains. In fact, the most dangerous place for a pedestrian to walk at night along a high-speed road or even more, more dangerous throughfares is a matter of taking one's life in one's hands and might well be termed "mercy Christmas."

In another domain Premier Borden should veto that terrible arrangement which was made by some regiments under-strapper—and send word to the men in the camps that they need not go home to have an enjoyable Christmas, that the wealthy Dominion of Canada will send them home. They have no right to make Christmas and New Year's bright spots in their drab existence; and that they will not lose their 20 cents a day if they take these two days off.

LOWER RATES MUST COME

The western Premiers, in their reconstruction program, request the Dominion Government to reduce the rates of interest paid by the banks to their depositors, "in order to bring down costs in the production of grain. In fact, the cost of grain production is far too high and much raise by the contractors instead. The Secretary of War, Mr. Baker, is credited with heading off the court-martial of Col. Deeds.

Justice Charles Evans Hughes, who enjoined

Col. Deeds distribution of lucrative contracts, recommended that Col. Deeds' contract be withdrawn and that he be given a ban and much raise by the contractors instead. The Secretary of War, Mr. Baker, is credited with heading off the court-martial of Col. Deeds.

If a sufficient number of men in every company

start thinking in the way these Stratford veterans are thinking, what chance would the poor armament makers have of making fortunes out of war?

The Passing Show

By J. S. COPWER

The war god is being belted right and left these days, and everybody is doing his best to help him with weapons to all sides—sometimes financing combatants and working their hates and fears to stimulate business. In response to Beverley Nichols' assertion in "The Times" that the English are a nation of cowards, the author of "The Passing Show" refers to their arms and fleet students at Oxford, Glasgow, Manchester, Cardiff, Leipsic, and Aberystwyth Universities and the London School of Economics in the Old County Hall, and concludes that they will not fight for "King and Country." By that they probably mean "for war proletarians and armament manufacturers."

The hard times in which the people who depend on the banks for their living are in, have caused the banks to develop a new savings department. The banks followed suit in the same manner. Parliament might get down to the point of municipal bonds, but the result has evidently not been a satisfactory drop in the rates charged for loans made to provinces and municipalities.

The difficulty is that the money which depends on the banks for its existence is not the same as the money which the banks follow suit in the larger cities. Parliament might get down to the point of municipal bonds, but the result has evidently not been a satisfactory drop in the rates charged for loans made to provinces and municipalities.

What the Dominion should do is undertake to finance the provinces and municipalities at cost, and not at a profit. The banks will not give up their profits, and the municipalities will have to go along without loans.

That is the only way to finance the provinces and municipalities at cost, and not at a profit.

There is no room for a loan.

There is no room for a loan.

This angry gesture of the Stratford veterans is to be sent, along with their medals, to the Finance Ministers of Canada, Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, France, Russia, Italy, Germany, Turkey, Austria, Bulgaria, Roumania, and Japan, Greece and India.

The following message, in English, German and French, is to accompany each returned medal:

"Fifteen years ago we laid down our arms, victorious over the forces of greed, nationalism, armaments and war.

"Our victory was rewarded with these victories:

"Today, nationalistic flourishes, greed and rampant, sermons menace our homes and war impends. The fruits of our victory have vanished.

"There remain to us who fought nothing but debts, memory, our medals and the war debt.

"It is sometimes brought to us as a result of constant noise or motion.

Edmonton Has Offer Of Collection Of Relics Of New Fort Augustus

Must Be Kept In Museum Quarters and Monument Erected

Providing it is kept in suitable museum quarters and that some kind of monument is erected, which is erected in the city to commemorate the founding of New Fort Augustus, on the site of which Edmonton now stands, this city has the offer of a collection of relics, belonging to McDonald's descendants, founder of New Fort Augustus in 1786.

McDonald's descendants now live in the United States, and most of the entire collection, including letters and the journal of McDonald, which he wrote while he was in the service historical and romantic value to the background and origin of "Edmonton," have been offered. It has not been made known whether or not this may not extend to Edmonton.

Building was suspended at the time of his death, so far as is known, and nothing has been done to secure them by carrying out the offer.

DUELING PISTOLS

Pistol duel relays is a brand new game, started by Mr. Gandy, which McDonald of Gandy was noted for always carrying in his belt, being the first "two-guns" man of record in Canada. He died in 1905, and no information regarding him available was "quick on the draw" and never heard of.

The greatest historical value, however, is the well written journal of the first two years of his life, a number of letters, and still in a wonderful state of preservation.

The following names come to mind as the earliest days, including Simon Fraser, Peter Pond, David Thompson, Mackenzie.

The offer was made by Macdonald's grandson, through Professor E. A. Corbett, of the University of Alberta, who is writing a history of the latter at Camrose on Friday evening, when addressing a Carnegie Lecture Series in the University of the Western Ontario.

FAMOUS EXPLORERS

In his address, Professor Corbett gave brief sketches of the early explorers of the Northwest, as well as of others not so well known, and will write up the names of some members of the old North-West Trading Company that he has found.

Investigation by The Bulletin following the offer of the relics to Camrose show that the master of the relics is receiving the attention of the Canadian government, and doubtless make a bid for the relics if no action is taken by an Edmonton organization.

According to Professor Corbett, Arthur Gandy was probably the first white man to come into Alberta, having visited what is now the Dufferin district in the Battle

MERCURY HITS
25 BELOW ZERO

Blowing to another record low level of minus 25 degrees, mercury fell at eight and nine o'clock Friday evening as Jack Frost hit hard at nose, ears and mite radiators.

Moderating slightly the thermometer registered 20 degrees at midnight, but it had already dropped to 15 at 6 o'clock this morning temperature was 18 below. Friday's temperature was 10 below. Friday's wind was 30 miles per hour, which this may not extend to Edmonton. Snow was reported today at the following stations: 10 below, Beaverfoot; 10 below, Grande Prairie; 8 below, Spirit River; 10 below, Fort McMurray. The coldest point was Mirror Landing at 18 below.

Fried Eggs Cause Pittsburgh Divorce

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16.—A dispute is brewing over fried eggs. If he asks for scrambled eggs, scramble 'em! Jim Blamey, of the Swissvale Service Station, says D. Gillis that she fried the eggs once instead of scrambling them. She does her own cooking.

Beer valley, just south of Cambridge, Ontario, is the largest beer-drinking country in the world. Beer drinkers drink an average of 37 gallons each year.

FIRST AGRICULTURALIST

Peter Pond, an American, was the first agriculturist in Alberta when he settled in the area in 1786. A little garden plot at Fort Chipewyan which he founded, pond is now in possession of the State of Wisconsin, that state claiming it as the first white man to enter its boundaries.

SECOND SECTION CONSIDER TYPE OF HOUSES TO BE BUILT HERE

Building Workers Plan Ahead for Any Public Works Program

The Edmonton local of the Amalgamated Building Workers of Canada built easiest in the air at a meeting held in the I.O.O.F. hall on 100 street, as they discussed a plan to build in Edmonton when and if a public building scheme is started by the government.

John Francis was chairman of the meeting. It was decided to have the plan ready for presentation by the executive committee of the local, which will study the written memorandum to be forwarded to the civic committee appropriate to such a scheme.

There was a long discussion on the subject, and the members came to a conclusion that the scheme must be put forward under such a scheme if it materializes.

The members felt that the employment relief, and the provision of decent homes for the lowest income group, were the chief aims.

Delegate Brodhead said that it would be no use to build houses until the government takes care of the people who now live in 5000 shacks.

EDMONTON BINGALOW

Donald MacEachern felt that the four-room bungalow, which was the most popular style of house for the town, was the best type to build in a small community.

He said that the cost of building a bungalow at around $1,000, especially if built on a main production scale, would be all right if you were careful and did not buy too much land.

One member feared that prices would go up, as he thought that building a bungalow would be more expensive than a flat.

There was also considerable discussion concerning building hydraulic steel, which was mentioned.

Following information brought in that single carpenters out at Elk Island were getting $100 a month, and others on government related work, many protests were raised on behalf of the carpenters in the city who are only getting $60 a week.

It was decided to send a representative to the Amalgamated Building Workers to present their demands.

It was decided to send a representative to the Amalgamated Building Workers would oppose any payment for flat roof work except on a cash basis.

Recording a surplus of $900,000 for the first 11 months of this year, the city waterworks also reports a loss of $100,000 for the same period.

For the 11-month period last year the total was $100,100, and for the same period this year $100,600.

Water consumers at the present time number 18,338 as compared to 18,200 at the same time in 1922.

CANZONERI BEATS COURAGEOUS EUROPEAN CHAMP

GOTHAM IDOL
BATTERS OUT
EASY VICTORY

Locatelli Is Given Big Hand by Faithful for Courage

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Tony Canzonieri, New York's baseball idol, kept his home crowd cheering last night Friday night as he gave Cito Loar, European champion, a fierce beating and roundly victory as he would be could not put away the fight. Locatelli, after his faithful team had cheered in a jolt.

Tony won an easy decision, but all the time he was getting $6,000 to Cito, later-to-be-a-well-known-warrior from the land of Canzonieri, who was making his North American debut.

Cito had courage to burn, unfortunately he had little fighting ability to pull himself together just when it seemed the lights were about to go out. Locatelli bled his nose, puffed him from belt to belt, but he could not stop.

WISE WARRIOR

Locatelli turned out to be a shiffting rascal, full of fellow, constantly retreating, constantly jabbing with his left, a ring wise gladiator, however, who had pointed skin both behind a protective shield and in front. He was pretty well set up, was bleeding freely, seemed ready for the curtain did he not have the cartoon style? Tony in toe to toe, cartwheels, and turn the house into an uproar.

PLUCKY BOY IS RESCUE HERO

ALTONA, Man., Dec. 16.—Nineteen-year-old Ernest Kippelstein was a hero last night.

The town's head son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kippelstein rescued his three brothers from death in a fire.

First the nine-year-old boy drug Marten, seven; then Hans, five and the two younger boys had to fight his way through the heat of the fire and dense smoke before they got out.

Mr. and Mrs. Kippelstein were in their general store 100 feet from the house when the fire started. When they reached the house, Ernst and his three brothers were outside.

It was believed the fire started in the park escape from the stove and failed to get out because the children had placed near the fire before going to bed.

Calgary Wants
Police Commission

CALGARY, Dec. 16.—An ad-hoc committee decided last night that the necessary charter amendment to give the city a police commission should be up a commission to handle police matters.

One Of Star

Of Juniors

Yale Pucksters Lose To McGill

MONTREAL, Dec. 16.—Yale University's men's hockey team, a McGill University team, in fact, last night as he gave Cito Loar, European champion, a fierce beating and roundly victory as he would be could not put away the fight. Locatelli, after his faithful team had cheered in a jolt.

Tony won an easy decision, but all the time he was getting $6,000 to Cito, later-to-be-a-well-known-warrior from the land of Canzonieri, who was making his North American debut.

Cito had courage to burn, unfortunately he had little fighting ability to pull himself together just when it seemed the lights were about to go out. Locatelli bled his nose, puffed him from belt to belt, but he could not stop.

Locatelli turned out to be a shiffting rascal, full of fellow, constantly retreating, constantly jabbing with his left, a ring wise gladiator, however, who had pointed skin both behind a protective shield and in front. He was pretty well set up, was bleeding freely, seemed ready for the curtain did he not have the cartoon style? Tony in toe to toe, cartwheels, and turn the house into an uproar.

NEIL COUVILLE

marathon player forward of Edmonton Athletic Club, who scored three of their goals from his bench, has been making a real comeback this season and is especially effective in the air, greatly when they oppose Rankers in a Junior League game tomorrow.

Hunter's Hand Injured When Gun Discharges

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Dec. 16.—Using his rifle as a staff, he made his way through underbrush with his left hand over the shoulder, and was unable to walk 30 miles south of Hespeler, suffered injury to his hand when the gun discharged.

Binding up the wound with a handkerchief, Hunter and his companion drove home in their car and then drove to Rocky Mountain House where Dr. Greenaway attended him.

He suffered a fracture of the bone, but not so friendly rivals the McDougall and Wab-Hoss from McDougall.

Those who old fashioned Canadian Evans are again again so sports will have to ride in the snow for the next few days. They will give you the last bit of high class entertainment.

It will consist of basketball, hockey and bowling standards to date, so be on the lookout for them.

THE GUMMIES

—By Smith

"The Tiptonites Club, for a while, and then of Santa, with a smile, said, "Here come your girl friends. Hope they like your new place."

"Then playing loudly as he sat down, he said, "Well, you girls can. Goldy promptly put her ears, while Goldy cried, "Oh, get me a—" "They'll soon be glad they're come."

"Must all of you lads play like

"I have a big surprise in store.

"begin?" said Dandy. "Now come and spoil our fun. I know a lot of things that you've been waiting for, I know you all like candy. And the whole bunch cried, "You bet!"

"All right," said Santa. "Come with me. My Christmas cook you are so good at it, you could make candy canes, some candy you will get."

"This made all Santa laugh out loud. Santa said, "Well, of these lads they're trying out the instruments I'll pack in my big sled."

"However, they played long enough. They're trying now to make a song. Then to the boy he cried, "All right, now, put those things away. Come, see, it seems we've just

"brought you horseback riding in the next story."
